Hydrant Flushing: Why is this Completed?

On April 27, our Public Services Staff will start the important process of flushing out our water mains through the fire hydrants. There are 916 fire hydrants in the City of Waconia, and this process can take a couple weeks to complete. You may have seen City Staff flushing hydrants last fall or spring, and wondered why they were doing this.

The reason for flushing fire hydrants is two-fold. First, it is a routine maintenance program, required to clear the water mains of fine sediments, like iron or manganese, that settle in the water mains over time. Second, flushing hydrants allows staff to note repair needs for the individual fire hydrants around town, a major focus for fire protection for the City of Waconia. These processes allow Public Services to deliver the highest water quality possible to our residents.

As you notice Public Services in your neighborhood flushing hydrants, you may experience some discoloration of the water. Please note that while this water is safe for drinking, it may discolor laundry. It is best to avoid doing laundry until the discoloration has disappeared.

If you have questions regarding this maintenance process or experience extended discoloration of your water, please contact Waconia Public Services at 952-442-2615.
