FOREWORD

The Waconia Senior Resource Guide is an ongoing project developed by the Waconia Commission on Aging. The guide is intended to be a starting point for Waconia's aging residents and their caregivers as they search for the goods and services they need in their endeavor to live full, meaningful and happy lives. It is more an ideas source than an absolute and final place to find everything you want or need.

The first edition of the Guide, published in 2010, is one of the first projects of the Commission on Aging. The Commission was formed in 2009 by the Waconia City Council for the purpose of understanding and getting input on the current and future needs of the aging population of the City. The aging population of the City of Waconia as a percentage of the total population in the city is the largest of any municipality in Carver County. This is due largely in part because of the excellent health care services and facilities located within the city. This high ratio of aging residents is not likely to change any time soon. The City Council recognizes this significant population base and wishes to be ahead of the curve in meeting their needs in government provided services, local ordinances, and future planning. The Commission on Aging is under the supervision of the Waconia Parks and Recreation Department.

This Guide is limited to resources that are located in Waconia or will serve you in your home in Waconia. There are many other very good resources and services available throughout Carver County and the adjacent area that you may want to explore on your own. More specific listings can be found in the phone directory, the yellow pages, or on-line. If you have suggestions for changes or input for additions, please contact the Waconia Parks and Recreation Department via phone at 952-442-5802, via e-mail to jmullen@waconia.org, via mail or in person at City Hall.

This Guide will be updated in print annually, but for users looking for the most up to date information, the Guide can be found on-line at www.waconia.org. The on-line version will be updated as changes occur and are discovered. The annual printed version will be updated to match this on-line version.

The Waconia Commission on Aging has made reasonable effort to include all local providers in each of the categories included in this guide. Any omissions are purely unintentional and will be corrected as we become aware of them. Also, the Commission does not warrant the work or services of any of the providers listed. Any issues with quality of services or work are strictly between the provider and the customer.
